Should Not Engage in Bee-Keeping. It is hardly necessary to say that all persons are not capable of becoming successful bee-keepers. Much depends upon the matter of taste and also upon the qualifications of the person. One might be eminently fitted for certain other duties, but make a very poor manager of bees, and yet this would cast no reflection to his discredit. One thing primarily important is to become acquainted with the natural habits and instincts of the bee, which requires careful investigation, with an interested mind. Most bee-keepers have a fondness and sympathy for these little workers, regarding them with a kindness of feeling which is due to every living creature. The powers of observation are enlarged and a person becomes more useful, able and susceptible techn hierarchy and seeptible to the highest pleasures, for having studied some of these most valuable lessons in nature. With certain rural industries we may often expect tairly liberal returns, in spite of a considerable amount of neglect, but with beckeeping it is different, and in most cases the lack of prompt attention means entire failure. The thoughtless, caroless person will surely fail in bee-keeping. He who is willing to give the subject his last thoughts, and only turns his attention to that direction after every other duty has been performed, will do well to leave this work to others. Bees do not "work for nothing and board themselves;" they require a reasonable amount of intelligent care, just the same as every thing else. It is certain, however, that no department on the farm has ever given them more ready money than any other one thing connected with the farm. In almost every family composed of several children, there will be at least one who would make a good bee-keeper, if given a little encouragement for a start. To horiz the branch series of the contract o start. To begin the business a person should be moderate; very lettle money should go into it until after carefull should go that it that after carefully studying the subject. It is necessary to read a good book on bee-culture, and quite important to keep up with the times by taking a good newspaper, which gives reliable information.

A single colony is sufficient for a start, and ought always by a beginner to be purchased from a person regularly in the business, and who is not selling a patent-right or riding a hobby of his own. Simplicity in hives is advised almost universally by modern bee-keepers Nearly every one indorsing a patent hive has one for sale, and is not generally a practical by bearer. ally a practical bee-keeper. All our standard bee books caution beginners in regard to this matter. The hives most generally used in the United States is known as the Langstroth hive and hears no patent. No prosecutions need be feared by any one manufacturing or using it.—The Farmer.

USE OF SOAP.

New and Plausible Theory Started by A new theory has been started with regard to the use of soap on the face. Women who for years have been careful of their complexions would never. onder any circumstances, wash the face in scap, as it was said to roughen and coarsen the skin. Now, this idea is exploded, and a well-known physician in the metropolitan profession recommends his women patients to use recommends his women patients to use it treely every day, lathering the skin well. Of course, a fine, oily and pure soap is most desirous. This being secured he states that none but the most cured he states that none but the most recorded by beneficial results will be effected by his method of improving the skin. Ho holds—with considerable plausibility that the pores of the face become as much clogged by grease and dirt as the hands or any other portion of the body. And if soap is considered a necessary And if soap is considered a necessary purifier is the bath, its needs must be left equally on the face. By an abundant and regular lathering the facial pores, he claims, are kept open, clean, free from the clogging matter that produces unsightly black heads, acne, pimples, and a pure, healthy, fresh and brighter complexion is the resultant. Not mineing matters, he says that the trouble with most women who have sallow, pasty skins is that from year's sallow, pasty skins is that from year's end to year's end they never have a really clean face.

An article published in Good House-keeping says: "Hands kept dirty are never smooth and white. Absolute cleanliness is necessary. Many people who do not work seldom wash their hands." The day's second wash of dirty says. hands The day's accumulation of dirt is allowed to remain on the hands all night. Upon rising the hands are washed in cold water; then the possessor wonders why when she does no work her hands do not look any better. The face and hands should always b washed in warm soap suds before going to bed. White soaps are safest. Highl scented and colored soaps are almost invariably made from rancid and illmvariably fats. After drying them thoroughly use a few drops of mixed glycerine and camphor, which the druggist can prepare for you. Drop into the palm of your hands and rub well, and this will be all that will be preserved to show decided. necessary to show decided improve-ment." When you rise in the morning do not use soap on your face, but bathe it well it warm water. Do the soan scrubbing only at bed-time.—Brooklyr Eagle.

-High medical authorities record the successful treatment of carbonen lous diseases by the injection of the officinal solution of ammonia. Arendine claims that it destroys the bacillarize in all malignant pustules, and is a specific in this class of dis-eases. Physicians have found the car-buncle always dangerous and almost beyond the reach of remedies.

Ex Gov. SHERMAN, of Iowa, says the Republicans of that state will gain two Congressmen this fallone in place of Hall, in the First district, and another in place of any difficulty or complications, much less a war, with the United States, which, he says, would result disastrously to herond district, where the Democrats have thrown Jerry Murphy overboard in order to bestow the honor of a nomination on Judge Hayes, who refused while on the beach to enforce the Iowa prohibition law, Gov. Tur telegraph continues to bring news of the excitement of the people along the border in Texas, who are evidently much wrought up over the Cutting case, and ramors also come of activity in military and naval circles, which the knowing ones assume to signify an early on break of hostilities between the United States and Mexico. Thus far the talk has been pretty much all on the aide of those warlike individuals who are thirsting for gore, but the nober second thought of the people will soon assert itself, and the question will be asked, "is it worth while to go to war before we know whether we are in the right or not." It is an exceedingly easy matter to whip the Mexicans in the newspapers, but the accomplishm int of that feat in reality will require money, men and blood, and while there Gull of Maxico by the United States could not be any doubt as to the government." Probabilities That the United States Will Have to Take Premature Action on the Part of Secre tary Bayard Places Us in an Embarrassing Position.

Demanding Release Before Investigating the Cause of Arrest -- The War Spirit Abroad in the Land.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 .- The impression grows that Secretary Bayard has seriously blundered in his conduct of the diplomatic correspondence over the Cutting affair. The United States Statutes, section 2001, prescribe explicitly a course to be pursued, and this course the official correspondence shows the Secretary has not followed. Before Cutting there should have been an official request for information the grounds which Cutting was held, and if the anewer was not prompt and satisfactory then the administration was authorized and required to demand Cutting's release. But Mr. Bayard blundered. He took Consul Brigham's statement of the circumstances of Cutting's arrest, and omitting entirely the first steps prescribed by law, he got the premature demand made the release. The discovery of this blunder, and the knowledge that this Government must back out and take a fresh start in the negotiations, is believed to be the explanation of the apathy which garding Cutting. Certain it is that outaide of the State Department this Gov-

No demand for reasons was made. The first communication in the Cutting case from this Government to the Mexican Government was conveyed as follows:

Government was control of the first of State, by Ashington, July 19, 1886.

You are instructed to demand of the Moxion Government the instant release of A. K. Outsing, a citizen of the United States, now unlawfully imprisoned at Pavo dol Norte.

BAYARD.

The demand was refused, and the administration is left without even its own laws to stand upon. The rumor is affoat that the last demand made for the release of Cutting was directed to the State of Chihaahna instead of to the Mexican General Government, In view of Mr. here who believe the rumor.

Senor Romero, the Mexican Minister, says that his government does not desire self. There is not, he says, the slightest disposition on the part of Mexico to show any discourtesy to the United States. He adds: "Mexico has among its statutes a provision which authorizes its courts to take cognizance, in certain cases and under certain conditions, of crimes and misdemeanors committed in foreign countries. The United States objects to that provision so far as their own citizens are connear that this provision is against the law of nations, Mexico could not object to modifying it, or come into reasonable agreement with the United States. 17

It is stated at the War and Navy denartments that while the fighting branches of the Government are in their cus-tomary condition of rendiness for action, offensive or defensive, the present difficulties with Mexico are as yet the exclusive concern of the diplomatic branch, and that no movement of troops or vessels has vet been ordered with a view to possible warfare. At the State Department it is said there Is nothing new which it would be proper to make public at present, but that there is still no reason to doubt an amicable adjustment of the Cutting affair. It is mofficially learned that the correspondence now in progress is expected to bring about definite results of some kind within a few days, and that the direct objects sought to be accomplished by this Government are, first, the release

The War Spirit at Fort Worth. August Vincent Theodore Spics' testi-mony is as false as that relating to the age of the bomb he gave to a reporter of the News last January, the whole is as audacious a piece of perjury as was ever uttered in court of justice. The bomb, a cut of which was printed in the News of January handled it, examined it and inquired as this rough rind had been rasped or filed away until the whole shone with the hrightness of newly-cut metal. Its side bore the traces of where the teeth of the file had bitten into the metal. For any man to pretend a bomb bearing such pal pable evidence of recent manufacture had een knocking about in an Anarchist newspaper office for three years is to insult intelligence. When he goes further and swears to such a pretense he commits willful perjury.

He Had a Quarter of a Million and KANSAS Crry, Mo., Aug. 11 .- "Great Fod, what is that man doing?" exclaimed the colored porter at the St. James Hotel while standing in the court at the rear o the hotel yesterday morning. The cause of this exclamation was the form of John Powers, a wealthy Texas cattleman, who appeared at the window of room 62, on the fourth floor, opening into the court.
As the porter spoke the man stepped out from the window, vainly reached for the water-pipe, a few feet dis-tant, then grew dizzy, threw his hands wildly around, and in another moment came crashing down, and fell a bleeding mass upon the brick payement of the court. He was picked up by tender hands and conveyed to his room bleeding freel; his hip and head were mashed horribiy.
